VALUE OF SILO COVERS SHOWN IN THREE-YEAR TEST

State College, Miss. — Good trench silo covers can save money for cattlemen, Experiment Station test have shown.

Dr. J. T. Miles and his associates in the Dairy Department at Miss. State University have completed a three-year study in which they compared four types of covers with an open or uncovered portion of a silo.

Plastic with a thin layer of sawdust over it gave best results. On a silo 20 feet wide and 100 feet long the savings in silage above cost of the cover were calculated at $214. Reuse of the plastic the second year would increase savings. Roofing felt and sawdust, the next best cover, gave a comparable $163 return. The felt, however, lasts only one year. The return for ground limestone was $48 and for oat straw and dirt $32.

Proper filling is important, Dr. Miles said. If the silage is poorly packed, settling may pull the plastic cover out of position and allow air to enter and cause spoilage. Mound the silage up in the center so water will run off and not flow back through the laps. Allow 12 to 18 inches of overlap at the edge to insure proper weighing of the cover and to drain water away from the silo. Use of relatively narrow strips of plastic, 5 to 8 feet wide, across the silo is convenient, both at filling time and later when the silage is being fed out.

The first two years of the test the silos were filled with chopped corn and the third year Sudan was used. Various covering materials were compared in two-foot strips across the silo.

"Careful use of lightweight plastic with sawdust or some similar material can almost completely eliminate top spoilage from a trench silo," Dr. Miles said.

The complete report is published in the May issue of Miss. Farm Research available on request from the Experiment Station at State College.

The 14th Annual State Convention of the Mississippi Association Future Homemakers of America will be held June 2, 3, and 4 on the Mississippi State College for Women, Campus.

Dr. Porter Lee Fortune, Jr., Dean of the College and Graduate School at Mississippi Southern College will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. Gilbert Gayant, 14, vice president of the local American Legion Auxiliary unit represented the auxiliary at the Ninth District Spring Conference held May 16 and 17 at Hattiesburg, Miss.

The Bay St. Louis unit participated in the opening ceremonies and was distinguished as being the largest Auxiliary unit in the state.

Ninth District President, Mrs. J. W. Gandy, presided over the meeting. Department president, Mrs. Harold Hale and Department Commander Gary Moore addressed the group. Mrs. H. W. Coleman, Dept. vice-president, Mrs. T. K. Webb, Dept. Secretary and Dept. Chairman were introduced including Dept. Community Service Chairman, Mrs. Russell Elliott, from Bay St. Louis.

Major E. A. Miller and Mr. John Leonard spoke on the V. A. Center at Gulfport and Biloxi.

At the close of the business session Mrs. John Foley of Biloxi was elected Ninth District president and Mrs. Luther Ruble of Gulfport was elected vice president.

Legion and Auxiliary members enjoyed a fellowship hour, banquet and dance Saturday. The conference concluded Sunday with business session and joint Memorial services.

Members attending from Bay St. Louis were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gayant, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. John Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Seeger, Mr. and Mrs. Nelius Rhodes, Miss Beuhler Possenjol, Mr. Sidney Bourgeois, Mr. J. F. Green, Mr. Henry Osoinach, Mr. Lucien Kidd.

POPPY DAY

On Saturday, May 23, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when once each year, we of America pay tribute, by wearing their memorial flower, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars and the Korean conflict.

Some may ask why do we have a Poppy Day First, we wear the poppy once a year to express the feeling of reverence that is always in our hearts for the nation's war dead. Second, we wear the poppy to help lighten the burden for those who are still undergoing suffering and hardships because of the war, the disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled. Making the poppies gives employment to hundreds of disabled men who otherwise would be unable to earn anything toward the support of themselves or their families.

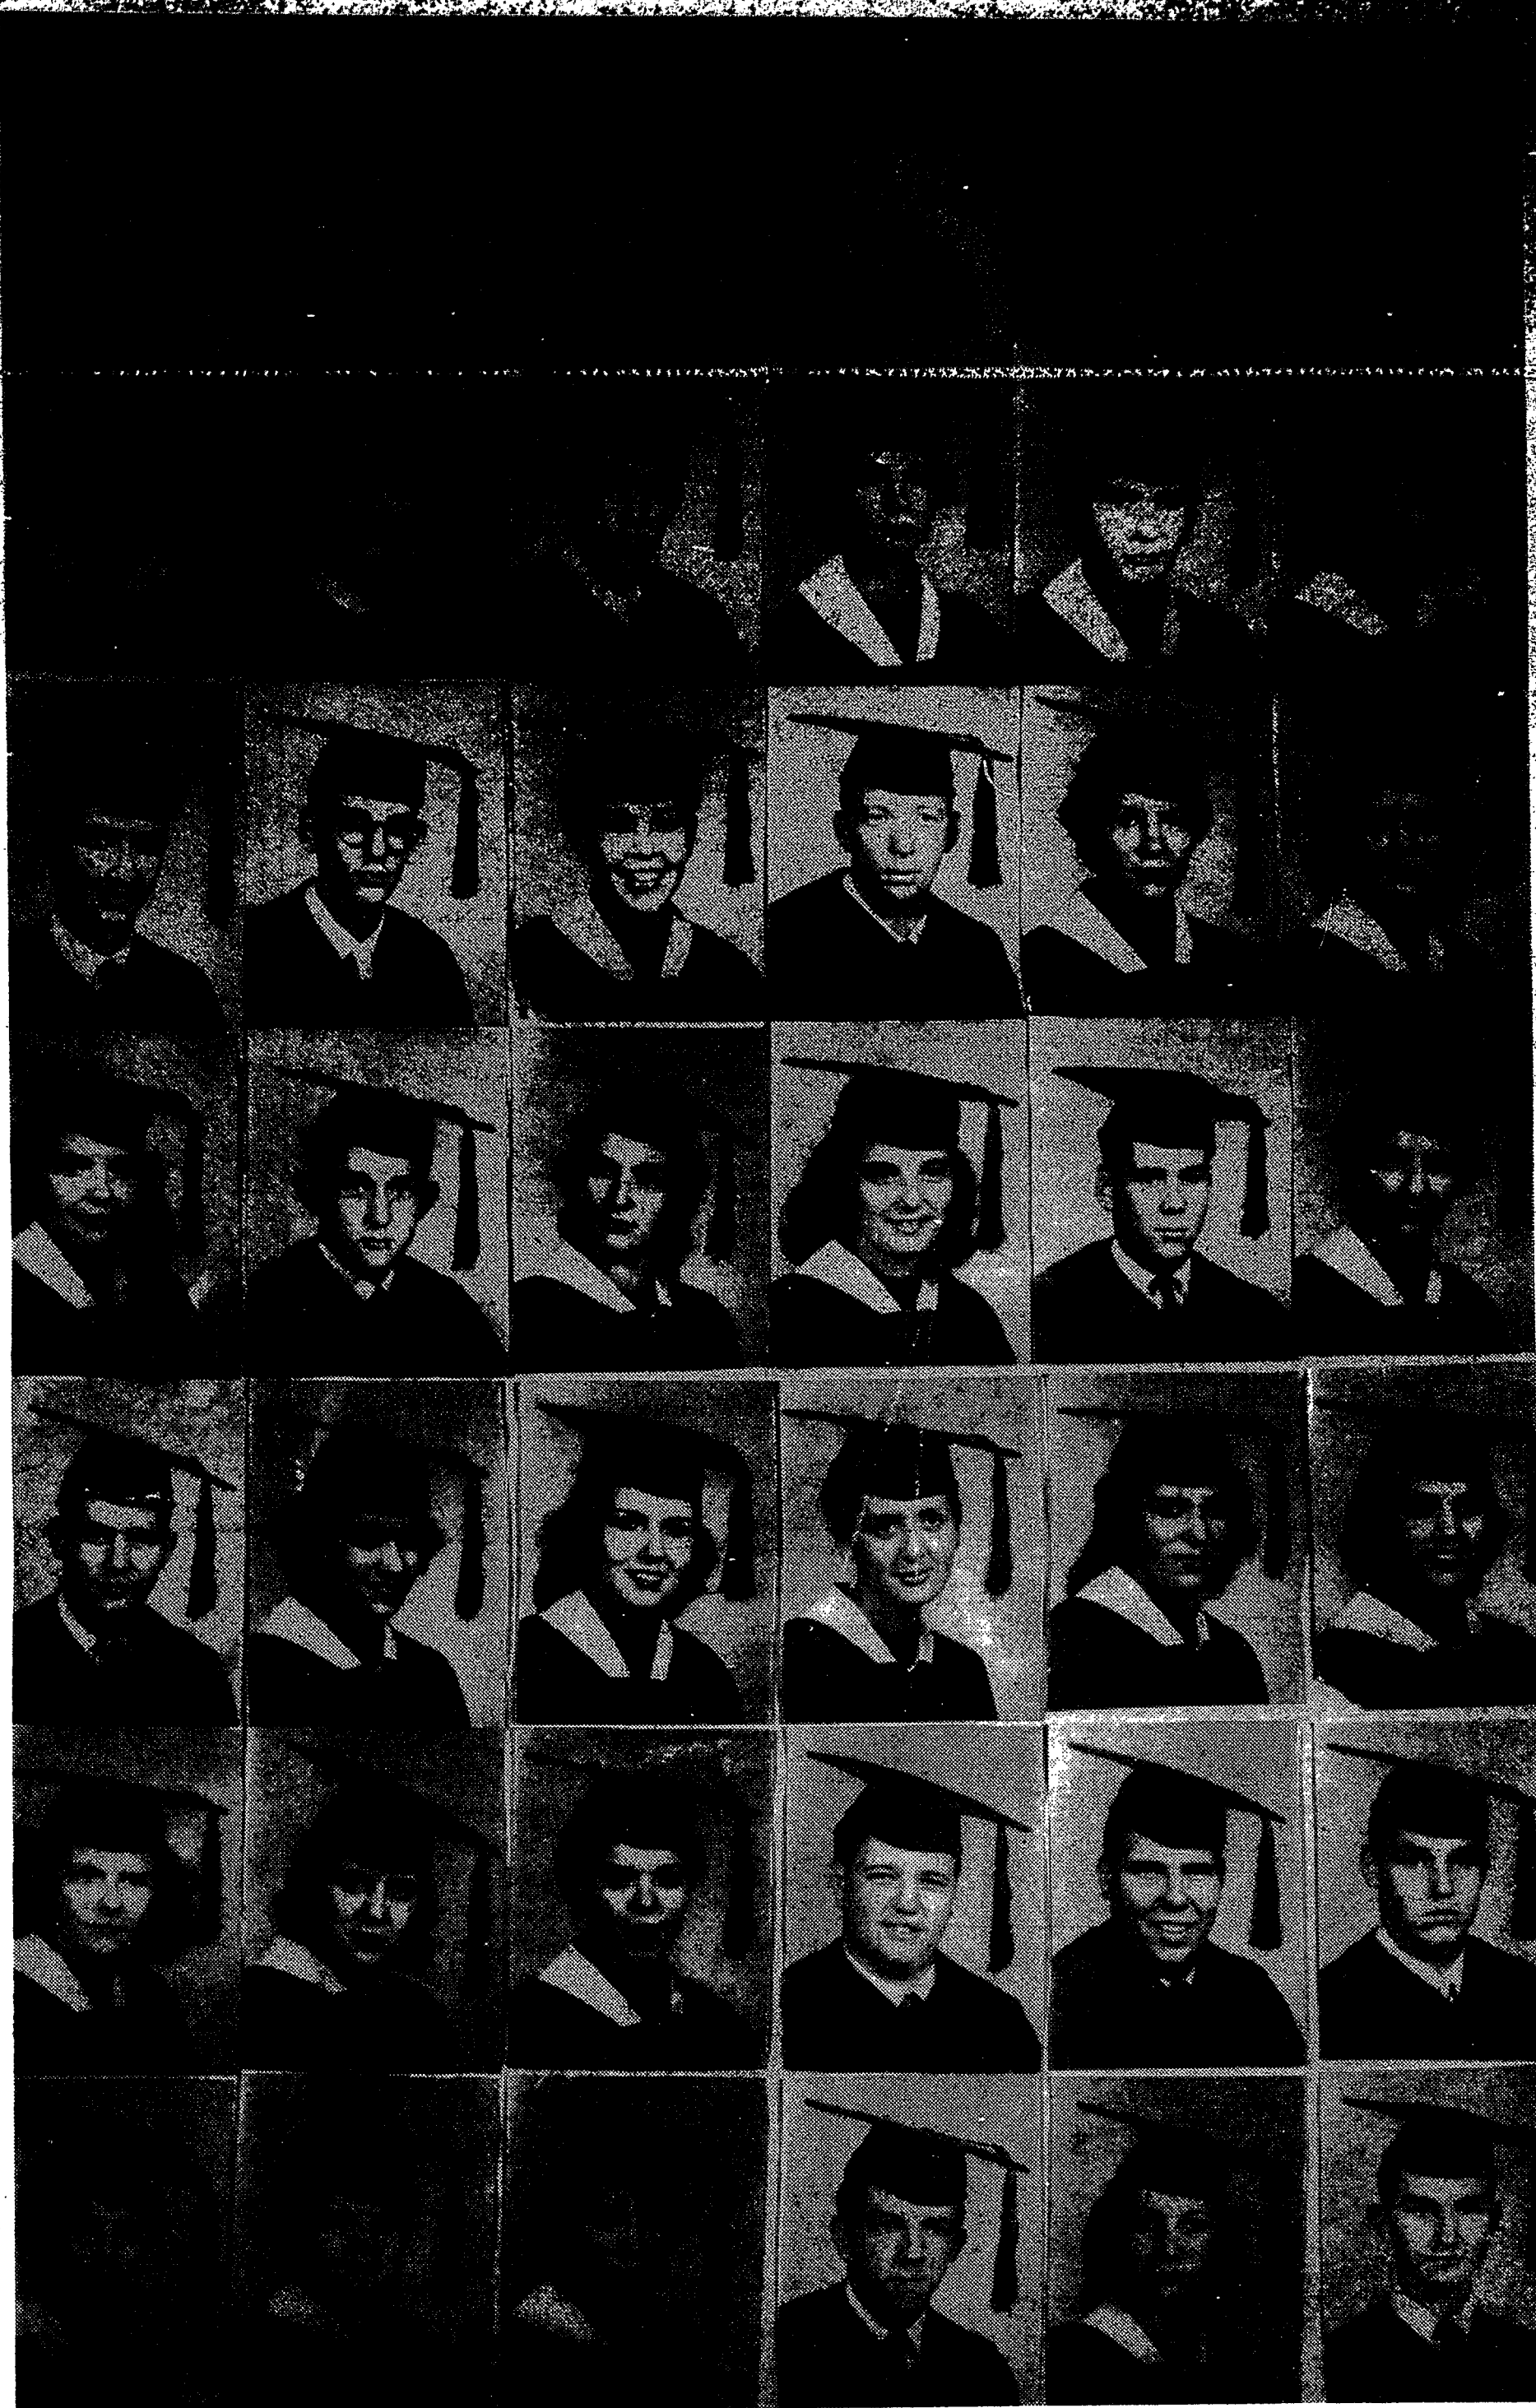

The funds contributed on Poppy Day constitute the largest source of revenue for the Rehabilitation and Child Welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary.

The need for the relief work which the Poppy funds make possible has grown greater each year. The American government has been fairly generous with the disabled veterans and the families of the dead, but there is a large gap between what the government can do and what the veterans and their children need.

The little Poppy fills this gap. With the funds from Poppy Day, the American Legion Auxiliary appeals to everyone to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, May 23rd in remembrance of America's heroic dead and in helpfulness to her living disabled and dependents.

"Miss Poppy" will lead a parade Friday morning at 9 a. m. to kick off Poppy Day.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

By HOWARD SIMMONS
County Agent

Do you support your cows, or do they support you? Many cows on Mississippi farms could be classed as dependents, even though you can't take an income tax exemption for them.

They are dependent because they don't produce enough milk to pay for the feed they eat, the housing they require, nor the hours of labor spent in taking care of them.

The only reliable way to find out which cows are low producers is to keep some kind of records. Several different types of dairy records are available. Most are good. Come by or call at this office (phone HO-7-4631) and we will help you select record types that fit your operation.

Now is a good time to cull your herd while beef prices are good, so get rid of those low producers while you can make a profit from them.

Restricted Use Of Methoxychlor On Dairy Cattle

The use of methoxychlor spray on dairy cattle for hornfly control has been restricted. The U. S. Agricultural Research Service is recommending use of methoxychlor—applied as a dust treatment only, for control of hornflies on dairy cattle.

The Department does not recommend use of Methoxychlor sprays applied to dairy cattle for control of hornflies or other insect pests. The insecticide is recommended as a spray for application in dairy barns as a residual treatment for control of stable flies and houseflies.

The USDA recommendation concerning methoxychlor dust follows the recent decision by the Food and Drug Administration of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare that (1) no residue of methoxychlor is permitted in milk, but (2) there is no objection to the use of methoxychlor on dairy cows if the insecticide is applied so that no residue occurs in milk.

Studies have demonstrated that when methoxychlor is properly applied as a dust treatment to only the backs of dairy cows, no residue of the insecticide occurs in milk. USDA entomologists have found that such a dust treatment provides excellent control of hornflies, one of the most costly pests of dairy cattle.

They recommend applying 1 tablespoonful of 50 percent methoxychlor powder to each animal, sprinkling it over the back and rubbing it lightly into the hair. This treatment will provide control of hornflies for about three weeks, however, the methoxychlor dust treatments to the animal will not control lice, other biting flies, the house fly or ticks.

Sell Sampling

Don't wait until the last minute to send in soil samples for crops to be planted next fall. It would be a good idea to take the samples in June or July for these crops. By sending in the samples early you allow time for them to be analyzed and the recommendations returned to you in plenty of time to buy your fertilizer, get it in the soil and plant the crop on time.

Remember, soil testing takes the guesswork out of fertilizing your crops. It helps you to use the right amount and not too much or too little.

SWEET POTATO GROWERS MUST APPLY TO STATE PLANT BOARD FOR FIELD INSPECTION

All Mississippi Sweetpotato growers who expect to sell, exchange or give away seed sweet potatoes or potato plants next season must make written application before June 1 to the State Plant Board at State College. When the necessary inspection is made, showing a compliance of 50 cents with the application. A certificate must accompany each application and will be used to cover the purchase of certified seed or certificate type. In addition to the inspection, the grower must give his name and address to the State Plant Board. If the grower is a sweetpotato grower, he must also be a member of the State Plant Board.

TRANSATLANTIC TV EXPECTED IN JUNE

LONDON—The first transatlantic TV transmission is expected to make history early in June. Confidential negotiations are going on right now between this city and Washington for a telecast to originate in America while Queen Elizabeth is in the western hemisphere, to be transmitted with the help of a satellite put into space by the U. S.

The use of Satellites for TV transmission has been discussed for a long time. It was used for radio transmission to broadcast President Eisenhower's recorded Christmas message around the globe.

Now the British hope for American cooperation to make Queen Elizabeth the first "space TV star."

If this dramatic "first" in TV can be accomplished, it could become a grand rehearsal for regular TV transmissions across the Atlantic and over distances which has been unable to cover for lack of relay stations.

Meantime, Europeans are going ahead with a TV project which has been quite successful, even though it, too, is only in the early stages of development. This is Euro-Vision, an attempt at bringing important programs and events from one European country to another by TV.

The organization was started in 1954 and has its headquarters in Brussels, Belgium.

By pooling technical facilities and programs whenever required, they are now in a position to

THINGS TO REMEMBER IN TAKING WEEKEND OR VACATION TRIPS

May is a popular month for weekend pleasure trips and motor vacations for Mississippians, making it also a time for special precautions. In planning a long trip, safety leaders suggest these rules: Stay a safe distance behind the car ahead. Don't bunch up with other cars, as this is what causes multiple-car pileups. Look into the rear view mirror frequently. Don't ride in another driver's blind spot; either pass by quickly or drop back.

When driving after dark, lower speed when lights are dimmed. Don't fight sleep. When sleepy, pull well off the road and take a nap. Stop frequently on long drives. Never stop on the pavement; and most important of all, stay alert at all times.

THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

One of the most important elements in American history is dramatically translated to the big screen by Cecil B. DeMille, who supervised the production of "The Buccaneer," Paramount's Technicolor epic about Viceroy LaFitte, played by the A. F. G. Theatre Sunday and Monday, May 24 and 25. With an outstanding cast headed by Captain Yul Brynner, Claire Bloom, Charles Boyer and Charlton Heston as Andrew Jackson, "The Buccaneer" recreates the filming; final phase of the War of 1812, the pulse-pounding Battle of New Orleans and the colorful events that led up to it. "The Buccaneer" tells the truth of the war-torn nation.

Jean Lafitte, the pirate king who had a price on his head, but who became one of the nation's great heroes when he came to America's rescue at the darkest moment in her young history. Yul Brynner made up with hair and moustache to resemble the famous pirate, plays the title role. As in "The Ten Commandments" the man with whom he clashes is portrayed by Charlton Heston, only in "The Buccaneer" they join forces with spectacularly successful results.

In one of the most off-beat castings of this or any season, Claire Bloom, Shakespearean actress and English lady, plays the rough, tough daughter of a pirate, who loves Lafitte and competes for him with the elegantly patrician daughter (portrayed by lovely blonde Inger Stevens) of Louisiana's governor.
